

INDR EXECUTIVE ORDER 2026-09

Continuity of Rules and Limited Administrative Non Enforcement

Issued by: Erik Zambrano, President, International Distribution Rights Institutions of Administration

Effective Date: Immediately upon issuance

Section I. Continuity of Rules

All rules, bylaws, policies, standards, and governance requirements of the International Distribution Rights Institutions of Administration remain in full force and effect. No rule or requirement is suspended, repealed, or rendered inoperative by the rescission of the Fair Rates Policy of 2025 or by the consideration of the Fair Rates Policy of 2026. All members, affiliates, licensees, publishers, and distribution partners remain fully obligated to comply with all applicable rules.

Section II. Limited Administrative Restraint

The Administration shall decline to uphold or enforce specific provisions only to the extent that such provisions directly conflict with this Executive Order. This restraint is narrowly applied, temporary in nature, and limited solely to resolving direct conflict. No waiver, suspension, or reduction of regulatory authority is created by this Order.

Section III. Authority to Determine Conflict

The Office of Law and Association Justice is vested with exclusive authority to determine whether a direct conflict exists between an existing rule and this Executive Order. Upon such determination, the conflicting provision shall not be enforced for the duration of this Order. All non conflicting provisions shall continue to be fully enforced without limitation.

Section IV. Continued Enforcement

All obligations unrelated to a direct conflict remain enforceable, including reporting and disclosure requirements, ethical and professional standards, and contractual and fiduciary duties. Violations of unaffected rules remain subject to enforcement.

Section V. Duration

This Executive Order shall remain in effect until superseded by a subsequent executive or board issued directive.

Issued this day by authority of the President of the International Distribution Rights Institutions of Administration.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Erik Zambrano', with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right.

Erik Zambrano
President
International Distribution Rights Institutions of Administration